Again we have passed another milestone in our life as individuals and in our work as a church. Reviews of the activities of past years are usually interesting, especially when they have to do with work in which we are vitally concerned. It is among the functions of the Year Book to review the work of the Mennonite Church each succeeding year. We now have the privilege of glancing backward over the year 1935 to see what the Lord has been pleased to work through us during this period of time. Of course, we cannot go over the whole of our church work, for that is impossible, and God alone has an accurate record of it. But we do aim to present some of the major activities of the larger church boards and committees, missions, and church institutions. You will find some of these in the articles presented and others in statistical lists and tables.

Let us notice some of the interesting things found in the statistics for the past year. The total membership of our branch of the Mennonite Church is now 53,884, a gain over last year of 1481. In the United States alone the membership is 47,253, a gain of 1185. It is a satisfaction for us to know that we are a growing church, even though there is nothing phenomenal in our growth. At this rate of gain, which is fairly constant from year to year, we will soon reach the 50,000 mark in the United States. These totals are found on page 76. Of course, we realize that growth in numbers means little unless there is also a real spiritual growth. We trust that this has also been the case and that these numbers represent not only members of the Mennonite Church but of the invisible Church of Jesus Christ.

The Table of Sunday School Statistics on page 36 is also very interesting. Notice that the number of Sunday schools is 505, with an enrollment of 69,963, and that these schools are manned by an army of 5811 teachers. A comparison of this statistical table from year to year shows that the scope of our Sunday school work is also gradually increasing. If we labor faithfully in His service in Church and Sunday school we can well trust the Lord to give us substantial fruits for our labors. May we give Him all the honor and glory.

However decrease in mission contributions during 1935 is disappointing. Notice the comparative totals of 155,697.43 and 171,692.34 a decrease from last year of 15,994.91. It is true that our missionary activities cannot be wholly reckoned on the basis of financial contributions, but larger offerings for the Lord's cause certainly make possible larger operations. As economic conditions improve we trust that our people will remember their duties and privileges as Christian stewards to give to the Lord liberally for His work.

For the first time in the history of the main body of the Mennonite Church we now list a church in Africa. The labors of our new missionaries in Africa have borne fruit so that now we have a church of twenty-nine members in the Dark Continent — twenty-one natives and eight missionaries. Praise the Lord for His blessing upon this new work of our Church.

A glance at Summary of Events for 1935 on page 33, shows that there were quite a number of deaths among the ordained church officers as well as other prominent church workers. We give special sketches of the lives of two outstanding workers and leaders — Bro. A. D. Wenger, president of the Eastern Mennonite School, and Bro. Levi Mumaw, secretary-treasurer of the Mennonite Publishing House.

All the statistical matter in the Year Book has been carefully and painstakingly revised. It is as accurate as it can be made with the information furnished us. Consult the Table of Contents on the opposite page to find what you want to know.

May the Lord continue to bless the work of the Church, and may we strive to serve Him more faithfully than ever before during the coming year.

MISSION ACTIVITIES FOR THE YEAR 1935

By S. C. Yoder, Secretary

Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

No matter what the situation may be there is always cause for profound thankfulness to the "Father of mercies" for His goodness to the children of men. The past year has not been without problems but since they, like the poor, are always with us we accept them as a blessing instead of a challenge to despair, and press on to the task that their presence involves.

With the somewhat improved financial conditions it was possible to foresee some prospects of expanding the work and accordingly two new missionaries were sent to India—Edwin Weaver and his wife, Irene Lehman Weaver. Elsa Shank was also sent to Argentina. These two sisters are the first of the second generation missionaries to go out under our Board.

News from the field has not been so consoling. Mary Holsopple, one of our nurses, is en route home at this writing on account of her physical condition. Sister Ada Hartzler is ill on the field. Several others among the India missionaries have suffered illness the past year and were unable to follow their duties part of the time. Reports from the field indicate the need of help in the near future. In spite of these handicaps, however, our workers are of good cheer and send us encouraging reports of the Indian Church.

In South America the church is also making some progress. During the past year Brother and Sister Lantz have opened work in another part of Argentina where the Gospel has not been preached in the past. Money was forwarded for the orphanage building and we hope ere many years go to have a suitable home for this phase of the work.

At home the work has also been growing at our City Missions. Brother Castillo has returned to the Home Mission, Chicago, where he has charge of the Mexican Sunday School and Church. A movement is also on foot to send someone to the southwestern states to investigate the possibility of opening a work among the Mexicans. The plan is to do this early in the spring of the coming year.

The Need

At present there are some pronounced needs apparent in our mission work.

First: We need a deeper spiritual life throughout the entire brotherhood. In our struggle to maintain ourselves during the past years of hard times we have possibly overlooked some of the more abiding things of God.

Second: We need a clearer vision of our responsibility as individuals in the matter of making the Gospel known. The test is not, are we giving as much as our neighbors, but are we giving what we can?

Third: We need more funds to expand the work. We realize that the power of God is not limited by money, but in a measure the power of human beings is. Consequently, with the return of better prices and a year of good crops we need to see that the Church gets its just share of that with which the Lord has blessed us.

Fourth: We need new workers. Two nurses are badly needed for India. Several trained nurses are needed for the Mennonite Hospital at La Junta. This latter is just as surely mission work as is the hospital work in India and deserves the same consecrated consideration. No doubt there are those in the church who are professionally, intellectually, and above all, spiritually qualified to fill the above positions and the Lord will lay it upon their hearts to give themselves to the task.

Fifth: One of the needs that impresses us is the need of missions, which have been in existence for some time, to become self-supporting. In Argentina steps are taken in this direction. This should be true in the homeland. City missions should finally grow into self-supporting churches and should give this matter serious consideration.

Sixth: There is need for a more systematic and wider dissemination of missionary information and the awakening of greater missionary enthusiasm and zeal. The Mission Study Committee is preparing a course of study for use among the churches. Bro. M. C. Lehman, returned missionary from India, is chairman of this committee and will be glad to lend any assistance needed to get the work under way in each community.

Conclusion

We have every reason to feel grateful to our heavenly Father for His goodness. It has been a pleasure to be identified with the Board these past eighteen years as a member of the Executive Committee. There have been difficulties and problems, but there was always a spirit of Christian forbearance and fellowship among those who were charged with the work, and, above all, an earnest desire to know and follow the will of God in every undertaking and in the solution of every problem. May we go forward in faith, sowing the precious seed, and God will surely give the increase.

These are dark days, critical days, strange days, peculiar days. These are days wherein hearts are made to bleed, heads are made to ache, and tears are made to flow. Is there no bright spot to look to? Ah, yes, the uplook is ever the same! Jesus the Christ has not yet changed. He still comforts those who seek His comfort. He comforts in all our tribulation.—R.

OUR MISSION IN INDIA DURING 1935

By Geo. J. Lapp

"Hitherto hath the Lord helped us." His eyes have been open unto us and His ears have been open unto our prayers. The Mission has passed its thirty-sixth milestone. Sister Sarah Lapp, the veteran of our Mission family, arrived on the field with her husband when the Mission was less than two years old. She has seen and helped the work grow from small proportions to what it is now. It is her testimony that surely "the Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad." We give Him the glory for what has been accomplished.

During the 35 years over 2,500 precious souls found Christ through the various Mission activities. Many of them have passed on to their eternal reward, and a small number have moved to other parts of the country. A small number have also fallen away and have our prayers that the Lord will still give them repentance and bring them back to the fold. At the beginning of 1935 there was a communicant membership of 1,366 and 748 children of our Christian homes, making a total of 2,114 members of the Christian community. A number were added to the Church during the year increasing the membership as the annual report of the Mission will show. Children have been born into our families, among them a pair of twin boys, sons of Bro. A. David of Shantipur. We thank God for the steady growth of the Christian community and for increased activities in soul winning by the Church and for the spiritual nurture of those within the brotherhood. The following are given as items of interest.

1. Student Self-help. Through the generosity of a dear brother in America who gave $1,000 it was possible to plan definitely more extensive self-help for students attending the Academy through gardening and other cultivation of land to be bought for that purpose.

2. Free Distribution of Scriptures. Through a donation given by another brother in America who gave $300.00 it was possible for the Mission to consider a free distribution of Scriptures on a larger scale than previously obtained. While care must be exercised to distribute wisely yet we would not miss this opportunity of putting into wider circulation the Word of God which makes men and women wise unto salvation. We would welcome more such donations.

3. Workers' Institute or Refresher Course. In the spring, just after the Academy had closed for the summer vacation, an institute was conducted for a number of Indian brethren and sisters who are teachers and workers. Short courses were given in Life Problems, The Practical Application of Scripture Truth, Methods of Christian Teaching, The Program of Evangelism, How to Win Souls for Christ and Methods of Work, and teaching which would enable them to return to the fields of labor equipped and more ready to apply themselves diligently to their task. It is hoped that more such institutes may be held in the future.

4. More Indigenous Support for Widows' Home. The Mission has adopted the plan of turning the income from the Mission fields in Balodgahan into the Widows' Home Support Fund. The amount will not be large but will help indirectly to lessen the financial burden of the home church.

5. The Mission to Lepers who are supporting the Shantipur Leper Home have granted funds for building a hospital block of men's and women's wards and enlarging the existing medical dispensary. The wards were finished by the end of the year, and funds are on hand for rebuilding the dispensary. Some equipment money is on hand and more is pledged by friends. We thank God for these helps for caring for the sick of this institution.

The Bible Class, Balodgahan

6. Active Opposition to Modernism. Because of the spread of modernistic and liberalistic influences in India our Mission in its last Annual Meeting pledged itself to more active opposition to such forces where they manifest themselves in any contacts which we are led to make with groups or organizations outside of our own. The Mission wants its witness to be definitely on the side of Biblical evangelical faith. This is not a new emphasis but a renewal of our pledge to remain faithful to our trust.

7. In each station the managers of evangelists and Bible women called in their workers for two weeks of fellowship and class work. The courses consisted of studies in Revelation and other Bible portions and topics, The Hindi Book of Doctrine, and methods of evangelism. Such times of refreshing are profitable for the workers and the work. Many of them live in lonely stations and need the touch of helping hands.

8. The Mission has asked one of its number carefully to organize the examining of all Hindi literature published by various firms in order to recommend publications which will be of service not only in the home but for distribution in Christian work. Such examination is necessary because of communistic and liberalistic literature that is being broadcast in the country.

Five missionaries left for furlough during the year and six have joined our ranks. Sister Irene Lehman Weaver has the distinction of being the first missionary child to return to the work as a missionary. She received a warm welcome by all the Indian people, especially her old child's nurse (aya) Ramoti Dai. We miss the missionary children who have left us and heartily welcome those who came during the year with their parents.

In the Indian Church increased activity for soul-saving is evident. The devil is also at work seeking to tear down what is built up both within and without. Groups of brethren and sisters regularly visit villages each week and present the Gospel message to the poor, ignorant heathen villagers. Over fifty such groups are at work in volunteer service for their Master. Retreats were also held with the ministry of some of the congregations for the purpose of special prayer and study of Church problems. The Evangelistic Samaj, composed of eight missionaries and eight Indian brethren as representatives of their respective congregations, continued to function in caring for the evangelistic interests of the field outside of those cared for by the organized volunteer effort of the Church. Through the Samaj, touring, outstation evangelism, surveys of villages, and the seeking out of places where special interest in Christianity was manifest, were carried on.

There has developed in our Mission a greater interest in group and caste evangelism due to successes in other places and also because of small groups in our own field manifesting a desire to know more of Christ. India moves in groups. Let us pray that wherever possible larger numbers of people may be led unitedly to accept Christ. We rejoice when they come one by one, but we long for the larger ingatherings of these many, many souls who have heard of the Gospel but are still in darkness and unbelief.

With new opportunities and widening spheres of influence we believe God has a greater work for our Mission in India. Increasing moral support is essential. More intercessory prayer in behalf of the work is solicited from the brotherhood at home. A sustained and ever-increasing financial support from the home church will also determine the ability to widen the borders of the Kingdom in India. May the Lord direct in all the interests of our Mission in India.

Shantipur, C. P. India.

Total

46 persons occupied in the work of the Mission.

Our Field at Present

Regular services are being held in 26 towns. This work is carried on in a district that is 370 miles long and near 100 miles wide. The long distance between towns makes it more difficult to carry on intensive work in the towns where no pastor is stationed. Nearly half of the 26 towns above referred to have no resident pastor but are cared for by weekly visits.

As many already know, we have opened an entirely new section during the past year. This is the mission in charge of D. P. Lantz and wife in the Cordoba hills. They have there quite a number of small towns besides the town of Cosquin, which itself has a population of some seven thousand. Still farther east of Cosquin there are quite extensive sections where no other missionaries are at work. We hope some day to be able to send more workers into these districts.

Our Churches

In nearly all of the congregations there has been an increase of membership during the year. The largest number was received in Quiroga, one of our new stations. At the close of 1934 the membership of all the congregations stood at 544. This will probably be increased by some forty or more persons. The churches have not been able to increase their contributions this year as we had hoped. Crops have been bad in some sections and many people were out of work. We are grateful that they have not gone backward.

The Training of Workers

The Bible school was conducted this year with more activity than last year because of the fact that Bro. Litwiller returned to the field. We have not a large number of students. We have not been urging young people of all sorts to attend. We prefer rather to have a select group of persons who have a conviction that they should prepare for greater service in life. Among those we hope some day to be able to find capable workers for our Mission.

The problem of supporting the school without making it a heavy charge upon the Mission is before us. Our experiments this year in the way of self-support for the boys have served to make a start and to teach us some possibilities for the future. We will not make any boasts about it but merely await for our continued efforts to bear definite fruit.

Other Departments of the Work

The work of special evangelism by means of the Bible coach and the tent has been carried on, but not as extensively as we desired. The greatest need is a person to put in charge who can devote his time during the entire season to this work. Our pastors have heavy work at their stations and can not get away for more than a week or more at a time. We are just now (December 1935) ready for a more extensive campaign.

The printery has continued producing the necessary literature for propaganda in tract form as well as printing our monthly paper for our church people. Some Sunday-school literature will be printed this coming year.

The orphanage has been managed differently this year because of necessity. Not having any family to put in charge, the children have been cared for in groups or singly as Christian homes could be found for them. In most cases some support had to be continued for them.

In conclusion let us say that we look upon God as the "source, and the means, and the end of everything" connected with our work. We are His, and His work is our concern, "for of him, and through him, and to him are all things." Pray for our continuous service in the paths where He leads.

EASTERN MENNONITE BOARD OF MISSIONS AND CHARITIES THROUGH 1935

By Sem Eby

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ, who has said, "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world." This commission to the Church is a positive fact of her need to exercise herself in spreading the Gospel. In addition to the above blessings and promises we have received material blessings abundant, and the work of our Board has made progress in extending the work to a wider field.

The work is encouraging from the fact that small congregations are growing up at each mission station, except at the stations recently opened and are not as yet sufficiently developed. A number of rural Sunday schools have been started during the year and taken care of by local congregations, for which we can rejoice, for they give exercise to many workers. Five rural Sunday schools have been started this year in needy places. Two are in the western end of Lancaster Co., Cedar Hill and Wickersham, which are cared for by the immediate surrounding districts, and two in the eastern part of the county, known as Meadville and Nickel Mines, cared for by what is known as the Hershey district. At Nickel Mines services are held in an old abandoned Episcopal church with preaching every two weeks. One has been opened at Rossmere, a suburb of Lancaster City and is cared for by the Lancaster congregation. Jesus said, "Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields: for they are white already to harvest."

The misfortune at Miner's Village Mission, of having their building destroyed by fire in 1934, has resulted in giving them a much more desirable place for services, but only through the untiring efforts of faithful brethren who scrubbed and cleaned with much vigor the old boarding house which the Bethlehem Steel Co. gave for their use. Now they have a nice place for worship without much cost to the Board.

The building items have been small during the year in the homeland, but from the Lancaster Colored Sunday school comes a crying need for more room. A crowded condition warrants the same, and as yet nothing has developed to relieve the situation. Philadelphia also needs more room, and a building fund has been started. Substantial support has been given, but a building proposition in a city such as Philadelphia will require a large sum, so the Board has not felt itself clear to go ahead.

Again, as for a number of past years, a collection of new and secondhand clothing has been gathered and shipped to Canada for the Russian immigrants who have again met with crop failures. These goods were baled and packed on December 4 at the Mellinger church near Lancaster, Pa. When finished, the work resulted in having 40 bales of clothing and 6 sacks of shoes, aggregating about one and three-fourths tons ready for shipment. The associated sewing circles of Lancaster Conference figure very prominently in this work, supplying many articles of clothing made at the various circles. One of the greatest joys of workers for the Lord will be to be commended and blessed by the Father for the things they did not know they did. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

There are now at this time ten city missions, fourteen rural missions and one foreign mission under the Board's supervision. Some changes have been made during the year in workers. Bro. J. Paul Sauder of New Holland has been stationed in Tampa, Fla., Mission. He and his family left Pennsylvania in June for their appointed work and are finding plenty of room for activities. Bro. Daniel Wert was given ministerial charge over the Meckville Mission, which is located north of Lebanon. The feeling of the Board has been that all mission stations, as much as possible, should have a minister with pastoral oversight. At two places this has been accomplished. Bro. H. Frank Leaman, superintendent of York Mission, was ordained for York and Bro. J. S. Lehman superintendent of Lancaster Colored Mission, was ordained for the Colored Mission. The congregation at Columbia had grown to be in need of a deacon. Bro. Daniel Dupler of Columbia was ordained to fill this place.

Summer Bible schools have become a prominent feature in many of our stations and have shown good results. Especially do we want to refer to the little school held at Meadville schoolhouse prior to the opening of a Sunday school at that place when workers came in contact with children who never heard the story of the Creation. The interest in Sunday schools among our folks was very evident when on Nov. 13 an overflowing superintendents and workers' meeting was held at Paradise church, under the auspices of the Eastern Mennonite Board.

Last but not least is the African work, the first foreign work the Board has undertaken, and with this come many problems to be solved. With gratefulness of heart we look to God, believing He has led each step as the work has progressed. Four missionaries have been sent to the African field during the year. On March 28 Dr. Lillie Shenk sailed for London where she entered school for a short course in tropical medicines. On May 31 Sister Elma Hershberger sailed from New York later to meet Sister Shenk. They together sailed for Africa from Genoa, Italy, and arrived at Shirati on July 27. Very remarkable was the calling and sending of Bro. Clinton Ferster and wife of Juniata County, who were the ones to fulfill answers to prayers for the much needed married couple the missionaries on the field were claiming. In about three months' time after appointment they were ready to sail, and on July 9 they left New York for Africa, arriving at Shirati on August 15. Four more have been appointed to be sent in 1936. These are Bro. John Leatherman and wife and Bro. Clyde Shenk and wife. The new station site in Bukiroba, about 65 miles south of Shirati, was taken up about December 1. Bro. and Sister Stauffer and Bro. and Sister Ferster moved to this field to build houses at this second station. The natives have built two native houses for them to live in while building more permanent houses. A third station site has been selected about fifty miles farther south on the border of the Mugango district bordering Majita district. Majita is an area which the African Inland Mission folks have given over to our Mission to care for.

Two dates in the past year make interesting history for the Africa Mission. September 15 marks the beginning of the Mennonite Church in Africa, when the first baptismal services were held. Eleven men and four women were baptized and received into church fellowship. Five men and one woman were received from other faiths, making a membership of twenty-one natives. At present about forty are in the catechism and instruction class. Another date is October 28 when the first Christian wedding was solemnized between two members of the first baptismal class.

Requests come from the natives that school be opened and teachers be sent them long before our missionaries are able to supply their needs. In one instance when Bro. Mosemann's traveling was hindered by a flooded stream, a group of natives gathered, and Bro. Mosemann was afforded the opportunity to preach the Gospel to them. An old man said, "These are good words. When will you come and teach us? Come soon, for I am old and cannot live very long." Such pleas as this should awake us to conclude that the Lord's business requires haste.

A period of gloom rested on Africa for some time when Sister Stauffer's physical condition was looked upon with seriousness. Many prayers ascended and much concern was shown in her behalf. We can praise God for her healing, for she is now able to take her place in the work.

The total financial report for the year shows an increase over the 1934 report.

What has been accomplished in 1935 we wish to give God all honor and praise, for it is by and through His power that we move and have our being. Let us be diligent always, and work while it is day, for "the night cometh, when no man can work."

THE AFRICA MENNONITE MISSION

By Elam W. Stauffer

It is with a feeling of thankfulness and praise to our heavenly Father that we look back over this year and remember the many things for which we owe Him praise. In the beginning of the year we were still without housing for either of the two couples then on the field. The first days of January marked the occupying of the first house to be built at Shirati, and we were then able to care for ourselves and things a bit better than before, but the second couple still lived in the first temporary house. At this time our only means of travel was by bicycles or on foot, and if we went by lake it was by dhow (boat). Our transportation was by handcart or porters. In February Bro. and Sister Mosemann went to Kenya to buy the first car and returned with it in March. This was indeed a real blessing to us, and though roads were not of the best they still were passable. In the matter of roads the country has shown marked development this year and we now can go to and fro with much more ease in the dry season, at least, than before. This meant much to the conservation of strength of the missionaries, for only those who have ridden a bicycle under a real tropical sun can know how much a car would be appreciated for trips that involved any great distance.

The second dwelling house was begun toward the close of the rainy season and in order to save labor and yet speed the work, this house was built as the bricks were made. The house was built of mud bricks, and as fast as they dried they were used in the wall of the house. The greater number of these bricks were laid by natives with our supervision, and we were happy to see that the work was commendable for most of them had never been accustomed to such work before. In the midst of this building work our force was increased by having the addition of two new workers. These new workers, Dr. Lillie Shenk and Elma Hershberger, R. N., arrived on the field on July 27 and immediately took up the medical work, leaving Sister Mosemann free to take up work with the girls and also do some village work. The building work progressed favorably, and by August the second house was ready for occupancy. We made special efforts to have ready by the time the next couple would arrive and had it just about ready for several rooms to be used.

Brother and Sister Clinton Ferster were the second couple for this year to come on the field and help to carry some of the heavy work of building. They arrived at Shirati on Aug. 15 and as is always the case were at once plunged into the work. The one thing hindering new workers from carrying as much of the work as they would desire when they arrive, is the language question and this proves to be a good thing. Many are the mistakes new missionaries would make if they could at once take hold of the work and carry on as they would then think. This made it imperative to have language classes and two such classes were in operation at once. The Mosemanns and the doctor and nurse studied Luo while the rest of the group put their time trying to master the Swahili. The languages do not prove as hard as many think but progress always seems slow to the newcomers.

Missionary Home at Shirati, East Africa

In the latter part of August we felt it needful to select the third site, and Bro. Ferster and the writer spent one week in the parts south of Musoma to locate that site. After much time in traveling and prayer and gathering information it was selected in the southern parts of Mugango district. When we arrived at the district office and presented our application we were refused the site for several reasons. Needless to say we returned to Shirati a bit disappointed but still knowing that there is a place for us somewhere in that part. This was left go at that time and taken up at a later date again.

A goodly number of the believers' class had been given some teachings in some catechism classes of other missions, and some few who were around the Mission had been baptized before by other missions and wanted to become a part of our Mission. Hence it was decided that we have our first baptism and communion service in the month of September. After examining the catechumens it was found that fifteen were ready for baptism, and the date was set for September 15. This is a day ever to be remembered by the group then on the field, for it marked the beginning of the Church in Africa and was an answer to the prayers of many. The service was held on the shores of Lake Victoria and immediately afterward fifteen souls were received into the church by water baptism. After the baptism service six others who had been members of other missions were taken into the church. This made the beginning church here with twenty-one Africans and eight white members. In the afternoon of that day we held our first communion service with the native brethren and sisters.

The next week following the baptismal services three of the group left for a few weeks to Kampala in Uganda for some needed medical care. This trip took Dr. Shenk and the writer and his wife away from the Mission for about a month and again delayed some of the operations a bit until the whole group could again take up their respective labors. The return to Shirati was on October 16, and we were indeed grateful that all were together again in good health.

Shortly after the return from that trip it was necessary for two brethren to go to Majita to meet Mr. Sywulka of the A. I. Mission in conference concerning the turning over of that field to us. There are about six A. I. M. schools in this district, but they are far from the A. I. M. work, and so it was their desire that we take over this field and give it shepherding. This trip was taken on October 28 by Bro. Mosemann and the writer and lasted several days. The outcome of the conference was that the A. I. M. folks shall retain oversight of the field until such time as we can start building our third station, when it shall then be turned over to us. We then spent several days in search for the third site and finally selected one on the north side of Mugango near several Indian shops at a place called Teseni. This time the application was handed in and seemed to be received favorably. The last report from the District Office is that it will go through for us. Thus we feel certain we shall soon have the Right of Occupancy for our third station. This station will have the largest number of people of one language within its scope, and adding to this the fact that the people of this particular tribe or tribes are hungry for teaching we look forward to a rapidly growing work here.

We now felt the time had come for actual work to be begun on the Bukiroba site and the month of November was spent largely in getting ready for moving out onto the site. On December 4 Bro. and Sister Ferster and I left for Bukiroba (Sister Stauffer remaining at Shirati for a while due to an attack of fever) and started the work there. This is at the time of the year when normally the rains may come and also when the sun seems to double its strength. The work is well begun and workmen are coming daily for work. After one and a half weeks at the work we returned to Shirati for Sister Stauffer and the workers are now divided, leaving four at each station.

The closing of the year seems to have a further challenge for us in that the government officials here are asking us how soon we hope to go into the interior districts and open work. We rejoice to know that they are recognizing our work and give us that consideration, but we ask our God for more faith in order that we may claim the field even though we now are not able to see our way through. We plan to reach into those parts some time during 1936. In conclusion may I say it is my cherished hope that the present rate of expansion need never be slackened but that we may hear the loud calls and keep up reaching out at this rate until all Africa's souls have full and ample opportunity to accept the Word of Life. Why not? Why should we set stakes as to our limit when we are servants of the Almighty God who is not limited except by faithless men? All things are possible to him who believes.

THE MENNONITE BOARD OF EDUCATION

By D. A. Yoder

The Board of Education reviews with satisfaction the progress made during the past year, not that everything was accomplished that might have been done but that the progress was in the right direction.

The Board of Education, composed of members from every conference district, beside those from General Conference and members at large, is responsible for the educational policy of the Church and the control of the schools under its jurisdiction. It has given itself to the task of performing its functions in a way that will serve the best interests of the Church as a whole.

At the annual meeting last February a new educational policy was adopted and a new questionnaire was formulated for prospective faculty members. While the Board previously had a written policy and a questionnaire for teachers these revisions were made in the light of experience to enable the Board and the schools to serve better their program.

With the return of better prices the outlook for the finances of the Board becomes brighter, and an effort is being made to raise money to liquidate the indebtedness that has accumulated during the past year.

The last three years both Hesston College and Goshen College have operated on a balanced budget. The income of both schools was derived from tuition, fees, and gifts made by individuals and churches. Schools are church organs and perhaps never will be able to depend entirely on their own income to meet cost of operation. Consequently, the Board feels especially grateful for the generous support from other sources that has made the continuation of the schools possible.

The aim of our colleges is not only to provide a secular education under Christian influences but also to provide Bible training for those who desire it. In fact, no one can graduate from any of our colleges or academies without having taken some fundamental courses in Bible. This is as it should be. Such a knowledge is still a great fundamental need of mankind, and the Church through its schools is making an effort to supply this need.

Both Goshen and Hesston Colleges show a gratifying increase in enrollment this year. Our own young people are beginning to realize the advantages of a Christian school, and our members are lending to these institutions their support increasingly, for all of which we are most grateful.

There are still many of our young people who are in attendance at other schools and who should be at our own. Both the Board and the schools under it are anxious to serve the Church and her young people in the best way, and it is to be hoped that as the years go by the value of our own colleges will become more appreciated and that they will receive this support and patronage they deserve.

MENNONITE GENERAL CONFERENCE

By D. J. Johns

As I was on the campground near Kitchener, Ont., on the morning of Aug. 28, 1935, and noticed the people gather in small groups, until they were numbered by the thousands, to attend the meeting called Mennonite General Conference, my thoughts went back to the nineties when the thought of having a General Conference was a live topic for discussion among at least some of the ministers and finally became a conference question. By 1896 a number of district conferences had appointed one of their number to be one of a committee to consider ways, means, and methods by which a general assembly of the ministry, or at least a representative body of the whole Mennonite Church of the United States and Canada, might be called to consider ways by which the whole body might be more closely united together to accomplish the work or program that God has for His Church. Matt. 28:19, 20; Eph. 3:10, 11; Eph. 4:11-13.

Of the Committee thus appointed by the several Conferences the writer is one of the two only survivors of the first meeting of that committee which met at the home of Bro. Emanuel Hartman, near Washington, Ill. The subject was looked at from all sides and discussed from all angles as best we knew, and we concluded that such meetings, if conducted in the fear of the Lord and with no other object in view than the welfare of the body of Christ, the Church, would be of very great help in unifying our teaching and practice. I Cor. 1:10; Phil. 2:5. A few more conferences appointed members to this committee and another meeting was held at Elkhart, Ind., the day before Thanksgiving, 1896, which resulted in the call of a preliminary General Conference held in the fall of 1897 at the Pike church near Elida, Ohio. After much prayer and discussion, benefits and dangers considered, the Conference made its first appearance in November, 1898, in full life at the Holdeman church, Elkhart Co., Ind., where possibly five hundred people gathered. The meeting was called The First Mennonite General Conference. It was held in the churchhouse of a seating capacity of about five hundred people. This was comparatively a small group (a small child, we might say) with a great work and responsibility resting upon it. The number of ministers present at this first meeting I do not remember, but the question naturally was what can we do for our further existence that we may live and grow in usefulness? How shall we proceed in our work that we may win the sympathy, love, and confidence of the whole body to bring them into a closer unity that Christ's prayer might be verified in us? "That they all may be one; as thou Father art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me" (Jno. 17:21). How can we be brought to a sameness of mind that we may unitedly hold forth, teach, and practice the standard of Christian life as taught by Christ and His holy apostles and interpreted and practiced by our beloved Church through the past centuries?

The sessions of General Conference have been held biennially with one exception, and the writer was present at all of them but one and has therefore seen many of the vacancies caused by the passing over of the faithful pillars in the Church, who longed for the accomplishment of the purpose and aim of this body. So also have I seen many faithful young soldiers of the Cross called to fill those vacant places with a desire to uphold the standards of the Gospel of Christ and preach them to a dying world. This affords much joy and encouragement to those of us who realize that the time of our departure is near.

The work has grown and expanded so that we are represented in India and South America. We have a Board to take care of the mission work of the church and under this Board a number of stations and the Board to report its work to this Conference, so also the Board of Education and the Publication Board, all to report to General Conference, because this Conference is the highest authority in the Church to all who have become a part of it. Therefore it is responsible for the oversight and supervision of all this great work. To accomplish this end various committees have been appointed to help out—yea, committee after committee until we almost have a machine like the boy said of the cornbinder. He said there were so many oil holes that it took as long to oil the machine as it did to cut the corn.

Surely the little bird that was hatched about forty years ago has grown to be big and has taken many things under its wings; that is to say, it has done much good work. So it also has grown in size so that for the meeting at Kitchener last August seating room was provided for about five thousand people. A large eating tent with cooking equipment to prepare meals for thousands of people was also erected, as was also a tent for delegate meetings. Oh, what a difference between this meeting and that of 1898 at the Holdeman Church in Indiana! Then the mission spirit was revived and the first foreign missionaries were sent out; now we listen to the report of the work done by quite a number of such workers.

As we stood in the midst of that city of tents and cottages and beheld the multitude going to and fro, we were made to wonder if all were interested in building the cause of Christ or if other interests caused the presence of many. Then we were impressed with the thought, Do the Mennonite people appear more Christlike now than in 1898, as even the world sees them and especially as God sees us? As I permitted my eyes to speak to me I had fears that they do not. Then I allowed them to take a view of the parking field and I was impressed with the thought that there were thousands of dollars there that might be in the Lord's treasury without causing any hardship to any one. Does God take notice? When inside the tabernacle, and impressions were made through the ear, I was impressed with many good thoughts and practical truths.

With many things I was favorably impressed at this our last General Conference, but I must confess that this meeting also impressed me with the fact that it behooves us to draw close to God, or we may be found playing the part of Aholibah who when she saw the sins and punishment of her sister would not take warning but committed the same sins with the same people and it is said of her that she did worse than her sister. And God said His mind was alienated from her. Ezek. 23. Have we seen the drift and loss of others? Are there signs of our drifting along the same lines? If so, we will surely also suffer the same loss unless we by the Lord's help stop the tide.

"Awake, awake; put on thy strength, O Zion: put on thy beautiful garment, O, Jerusalem."

THE CRUSHED ROSE

Flora L. Osgood

Oh, beautiful rose, please tell me,
For I would like to know,
Why I must crush your petals
That sweeter perfume may flow.

Oh, life that is clothed in beauty,
Perhaps like that beautiful rose,
You will need to be crushed by suffering
Ere you give out your best, who knows?

A life that is crushed by sorrow
Can feel for another's grief
And send out that sweet perfume of love
That will bring some heart relief.

Oh, do not repine at your testing,
When called to pass under the rod,
It is, that life might the sweeter be
And comes from the hand of God.

He knows how much we are needing,
Of sorrow, or suffering, or test,
And only gives to His children
The things that He knoweth are best.

Then let us rejoice when He sendeth,
Some sorrow or hardship that tries,
And be glad to be crushed as the rose leaf,
That a sweeter perfume may arise.

MENNONITE PUBLICATION BOARD

By M. H. Shantz

One of the meetings held just preceding the Mennonite General Conference is the biennial meeting of the Mennonite Publication Board. This Board, consisting of members appointed by the district conferences of the Mennonite Church under the General Conference, three members appointed by the General Conference, and three members at large appointed by the Board itself, with the Manager and Secretary-treasurer of the Publishing House as ex officio members, is delegated to maintain and operate a church publishing house, to awaken a greater interest in the cause of wholesome and Scripturally sound literature; to promote or encourage the distribution of such literature adapted to the present-day needs of home and Church.

The Board has endeavored, through its Executive Committee and otherwise, to carry out this program. Varied problems and conditions arose in the past year that needed the most careful consideration in order that the work be not hindered. Accordingly the Executive Committee of the Board met in March at Scottdale to care for problems arising in the work of the House. Adjustments were made which seemed to work satisfactorily until the sudden death of the Secretary-treasurer of the House, Bro. Levi Mumaw, early in June. This was a distinct shock and a severe loss to the staff and the work of the House, as well as to the Board and the Church at large. The Executive Committee again met at the House and endeavored to work out plans to meet the situation that had arisen. At this meeting Bro. A. J. Metzler of Masontown, Pa., was appointed Acting Manager and Bro. C. B. Shoemaker of the House staff as Acting Secretary-treasurer. This arrangement met the current needs, and the work went on with this official staff until the regular meeting of the Board.

The regular meeting of the Board was held with the congregation worshiping at the East Zorra Church near Tavistock, Ont., on Aug. 22, 23, 1935. The reports presented at this meeting showed that the Board, as well as the Publishing House, were in a favorable condition. The financial statement revealed a substantial increase in surplus, despite the so-called depression.

One of the questions coming up for discussion was the buying of a property in Lancaster, Pa., for a new location of a book store conducted in connection with the Publishing House. A committee was appointed by the Board to investigate; with the authority to purchase it. Since the meeting investigation has been made and the property procured, and the Book Store is now operating at 40 S. Duke Street.

The Board elected Bro. A. J. Metzler as Manager of the House, and Bro. C. B. Shoemaker as Secretary-treasurer, and re-elected the former editorial staff.

This article would not be complete if no reference was made of the Publishing House and its activities. We have a staff of about forty workers who are doing their part to keep the work going. With the exception of a few, the workers are members of the Mennonite Church. The workers are composed of the managing staff, who are putting heart and soul into the work; a group of editors who are giving their time to church papers and periodicals; department heads; linotype operators; the make-up men; the pressmen; the bookbinders; the shipping department; and the book store—all combining their efforts for one common cause, namely, to make the institution a success.

Reference has been made to the passing of the Secretary-treasurer of the House. We would like to give our tribute to him who was one of the mainstays of the House, and I am sure that in the passing of Bro. Mumaw we have sustained a real loss. He always had a deep concern for the work and gave his energy to that end. While we feel the loss very keenly we bow in humble submission to Him who doeth all things well.

May we continue to lend our support to the work of the Board and the House by prayer and financial assistance, knowing that great possibilities lie ahead and that much good may be done by the spreading of the Gospel through the printed page. May we labor to this end till He come.

THE SOVEREIGNTY OF GOD

By J. H. Mosemann

That God is sovereign there can be no doubt. He is the Creator of all things, visible or invisible. All things were created by Him and for Him. They were created for His glory. There was no one in the universe to give God wisdom or counsel to plan, design, or decree how the things were to be created or to have power to execute such plans, or designs, or decrees. They were planned by God alone, and it was He alone who could execute His plans. In all God's creation there is displayed wondrous wisdom, and knowledge, and forethought. All these things were done by the sovereign will of God alone. It matters not whether we examine the fowls of the air or the fishes of the sea, all are wonderfully created and made. So likewise also the animals of all kinds bespeak to us the wondrous wisdom and power of God. God is sovereign as to type, color, form, and habit of each one of these animals. Likewise is God sovereign in the creating of man. Even though He said, "Let US make man," as though He were counseling another, it was His own Son, by whom, and through whom, all things were created and made.

God is sovereign not only in matters regarding the original creation, but He is also sovereign in respect to grace and salvation for man in the following manner. It is God who has granted that men should be dealt with in mercy and in grace, through His Son Jesus Christ, who "bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed" (I Pet. 2:24). It may be cited that the Scriptures state that God has compassion on whom He will have compassion, and mercy upon whom He will have mercy. We cheerfully grant this, but point to the fact that it is also written, "God hath concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all" (Rom. 11:32). Blessed be God that HE has mercy upon all!

This is indeed good news to every mortal being on earth. God would have been perfectly justified to deal with mankind in justice and consign him his portion with the evil one, who is to be banished from the presence of God, for all eternity. I say, God would have been justified in dealing with the human family in justice and sending them all to eternal perdition. But God has chosen to deal with them in grace and mercy altogether. God foreknew that man would sin, therefore He planned to redeem mankind before he was ever created, and He also has chosen us in Christ before the foundation of the world. It is the view of some that God saves some people by irresistible grace, and gives others no grace at all. We cannot harmonize such a view with the Scripture that teaches us that "God hath concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all" (Rom. 11:32). The grace of God offers mercy to every one, so that "whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." People themselves, therefore, decide their own destiny while living upon this great globe. They make their own choice of heaven or hell, God having foreknown which choice they would make. It is Christ who urges men to strive to enter the strait gate and to travel upon the narrow way. He says "Many shall seek to enter in and shall not be able, for wide is the gate and broad is the way that leadeth unto destruction, and many there be which go in thereat." Few people will find the narrow way through the strait gate. Man must co-operate with God in this matter of salvation or be forever lost. God forces no one to accept this salvation against his own will. It is written, "Whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely" (Rev. 22:17).

How gracious is our God! Yet how sovereign is His divine will! Again it is written, "The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is longsuffering to usward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to REPENTANCE" (II Pet. 3:9). God in His sovereignty has granted repentance to the Gentiles as well as to the Jews, extending that repentance to all, and even commanding "ALL MEN EVERYWHERE TO REPENT" (Acts 17:30).

Some men seek to change the decree and the counsel of the Almighty and "hew them out cisterns, broken cisterns which can hold no water." They seek to make out that God saves people whom He loves and whom He has chosen by irresistible grace and that others He gives little or no grace to be saved. We cannot concur with this thought of partiality. God loves all men, offering salvation and repentance unto all, giving the invitation unto all who will, to come and find rest and salvation. God is sovereign and in that sovereignty provides for all men to bring them unto the knowledge of Christ, and His saving redemption.

There are those who believe and preach a limited atonement. The Scriptures are clear and plain that "Christ died for all." Now if He died for all, what Scriptural right has any one for even hinting that there was only a limited atonement? Yet, there are those who boldly declare that Christ did not die for all. It had to be so, that He died for all, or salvation could not have been offered unto all. God has declared Himself to be against those who are against Him. He is against the evildoer who persists in his own evil course. It is His unalterable decree to punish all such who refuse to repent and believe the Gospel. On the other hand, it is written "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life; and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him" (Jno. 3:36).

God as sovereign is unalterably opposed to and against the proud, and haughty, and vain. He says plainly that "The wicked shall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God" (Psa. 9:17). The Lord through the prophet Isaiah has said, "Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him: . . . woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him; for the reward of his hands shall be given unto him" (Isa. 3:10, 11). Again it is written, "God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble." "The fear of the Lord is to hate evil: pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth, do I hate" (Prov. 8:13). "Though hand join in hand, he (the proud) shall not be unpunished" (Prov. 16:5). "Though hand join in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished" (Prov. 11:21). These Scriptures present no escape for the impenitent wicked, evildoers, and the proud in heart. No wonder Jesus said, "Except ye repent ye shall all likewise perish" (Luke 13:3, 5). God is sovereign, and as such His Word and will must be obeyed, or we perish. Such are the divine decrees: REPENT, BELIEVE, OBEY, or PERISH! Which will we choose? "Choose you this day whom ye will serve"—God or mammon; Christ or the devil; the Word of God or the word of men, the Spirit of God, or the spirit of the world?

THE MEANING OF LIFE

The Lord I love went home one day,
Went home to God. He did not say
How long He would be gone, nor when
He would be coming back again.
I only know that He has gone
To make a place for me. Some dawn
Or evening light He'll come for me!

Till then there is a task that He
Has set for me, His last command,
To preach the Word! O heart and hand,
Be consecrated to His cause.
Spend strength and purse and store, nor pause
Until that wondrous prize is won—
His tender words, "Beloved, well done!"

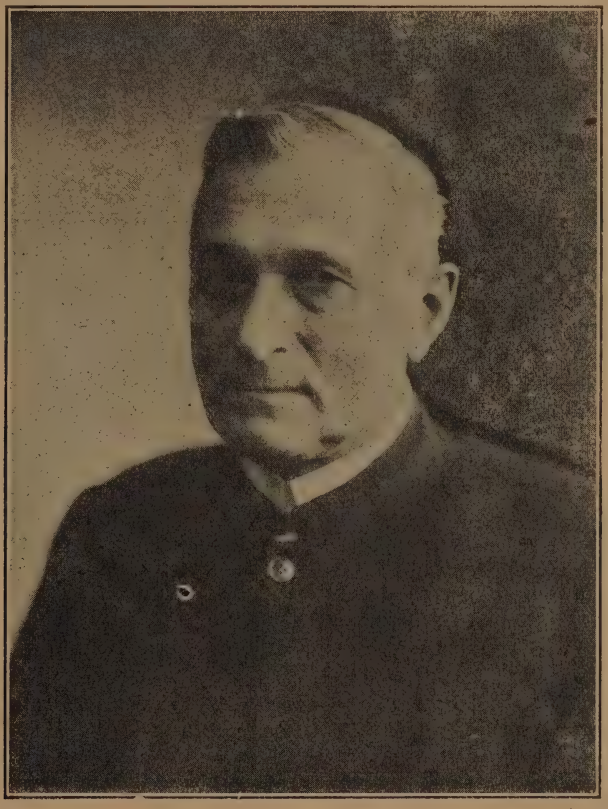
AMOS DANIEL WENGER

By Daniel Kauffman

We know him best as "A. D. Wenger." On Saturday, Oct. 5, 1935, we were shocked with the sad news of his passing away, the Lord having called him to Himself.

The first time that I had the privilege of meeting Bro. Wenger personally was in the summer of 1891. He had just given his heart to the Lord a short time previous to this, and I was impressed with his zeal for and loyalty to the whole Gospel faith.

Three years after this we met again in Cass Co., at the Missouri-Iowa Conference in Bethel Church. In the meantime he had taken a course in Warrensburg State Normal School, and had secured a school in Cass County, where he taught the following winter. It was in September, 1894. We had a stirring conference, that proved to be historic. There were present, besides home conference members, such well-known evangelists as J. S. Coffman, J. S. Hartzler, M. S. Steiner, and a number of other faithful and capable leaders. It was at this conference that a start was made in the selection of the committee of conference representatives, which resulted in the organization of the Mennonite General Conference three years later. Young Wenger, like many others, was profoundly stirred by the events of this conference. His zeal for the orthodox faith was revived, and he proved himself fully as zealous for the Cause as a laborer in Bethel Church as he was in the schoolroom, although he was faithful in the schoolroom as well as in the Church.



Amos D. Wenger

Since the time of this conference I have looked upon A. D. Wenger as one of my nearest and dearest friends. We met frequently in conferences and on other occasions, and there was no time in which we were not in touch with each other, either personally or by correspondence. There were a few points concerning which we did not altogether see alike, but none of those points were permitted to mar our friendship or fellowship. In our conservative viewpoint and belief in the orthodox Christian faith we were in perfect harmony.

Nov. 11, 1894, by the unanimous voice of the congregation, he was called to the ministry in the Bethel Church, was ordained by Bishop David D. Kauffman, and at once threw the energies of his life into his responsible calling. But his service at Bethel was short-lived. In less than a year he went to Iowa, where he divided his time between attending the Friends' University at Oskaloosa and caring for the little flock near South English that has since grown into the Liberty congregation. In June, 1896, he started eastward, and for a number of years was almost continually engaged in evangelistic work.

Brother Wenger was twice married. His first wife, whom he wedded July 1, 1897, was called home July 14, 1898. Jan. 21, 1899, he started on his trip around the world, the events of which are recorded in his book, "Six Months in Bible Lands, and around the Globe in fourteen Months." It was on this trip that he served with Brethren J. A. Ressler and W. B. Page in the location of the American Mennonite Mission, at Dhamtari, India. Sept. 27, 1900, about six months after his return from his tour around the world, he was married to Anna May Lehman of Millersville, Pa., who with three sons and four daughters survives him.

After his return from his tour around the world he divided his time between evangelistic work, instructor in Bible conferences, ministerial work at Millersville, Pa., and Fentress, Va., and the last thirteen years of his life as President of Eastern Mennonite School. In the estimation of many, it was in this last position that he made his most substantial contribution to the cause of Christ and the Church.

This sketch of his life would not be complete if we did not dwell upon what we consider the principal cause of his success. That he was a marked success in every cause in which he engaged, is conceded by all who are acquainted with his life. As a book agent in his younger years, he earned enough money to put himself through school. As an evangelist, he saw more people turn to the Lord than most evangelists do. As a personal worker, he went direct to the heart of those with whom he labored, winning hundreds to the Christian life. His trip around the world was not a mere sight-seeing tour, as his book of travels abundantly shows. When the Gospel Witness was started, he threw his energies into this enterprise, securing about one-third of its subscribers during the first year. After he moved to Fentress, Va., his faithful ministry meant much to the congregation, while his vigorous and enterprising spirit as a farmer resulted in productive vineyards that brought him quite as many favorable comments as did his other enterprises.

When, in 1922, he was chosen to head the Eastern Mennonite School, he accepted the place and went after his work with his characteristic zeal. It was not the position which he prized. He felt his responsibility. Before him was a body of students, many of whom were destined to become leaders of the Church. It was the burden that they might become leaders who would lead their followers in a heavenward and not a worldward direction that prompted him to put forth the best efforts of his life. To him the words "Christian" and "Mennonite" meant nothing if they did not mean one hundred percent loyalty to God and His Word. With voice and pen he defended and promulgated the orthodox Christian faith, and eternity alone will record the results of his labors.

It was his capacity to throw all the powers of his being into the cause which he espoused that accounts for his successful career. So thoroughly did he concentrate his powers to that which he felt was his greatest responsibility that he did not render the services in an all-around manner that some others did. But the effects of his concentration of powers were manifest in all he undertook to do. As a salesman, as a pastor, as an evangelist, as a writer, as an educator, and as a defender and promulgator of the Christian faith he made his influence felt.

The last time that most of us saw him was at the Mennonite General Conference, held at Kitchener, Ont., the last week in August, 1935. While he had been crippled from the effects of a severe attack of sickness in 1900, he seemed especially robust in his appearance before the General Conference. His address on "The Stewardship of Wealth" went right to the heart of his subject, and of the people. Little did any one think at that time that he would be called home in so short a time. But we bow in humble submission to Him who doeth all things well.

Amos Daniel Wenger, son of Jacob and Hannah Wenger, was born Nov. 25, 1867, near Greenmount, Va.; died Oct. 5, 1935, at his home near Harrisonburg, Va.; aged 67 years, 11 months, 10 days. These few words give us the record of his life on earth. The remainder of his record will be recorded in eternity.

"GRACE MULTIPLIED"

(II Peter 1:2)

This grace and peace become multiplied by a greater acquaintanceship with God and Jesus Christ. The apostle says, "knowledge of God," knowing more of God. This is done by reading, especially the Bible. By prayer and giving of our means, giving up the things of the world and drawing nearer to God. By association we learn more of the object of our desire and affections.—Sel.

"Home is the place above all other where children should find religion."

OTHERS

Others traveling through the world, broken, bent in shame; there seems no one to plead their cause. Lord, help me plead for others.

Others, sad, with hair that's grey, have sadly missed the narrow way, with no one to weep for them to-day. Lord, help me to weep for others.

Others with a misspent life, wretchedly beaten in the strife, paying such a fearful price. Lord, help me in my life for others.

Others with burdens too heavy to bear, ready to give up in despair. Lord, let me carry a burden for others.

Others lost in darkest night, miserably groping for the light; what they need is faith for sight. Lord, help me in my life for others.

Others there are who are preaching today, who once have known a better way, and now are beaten in the fray. Lord, help me to hold on for others.

Others whose lives are blighted by the wrong vows they took, could have been saved from their sorrow, but they laughed at prayer and the good old Book. Lord, help me pray for others.

Others whose children are living today where over them the devil holds sway, because somebody refused to pray. Lord, let me pray for others.

Others whose life is full of fun, their life on earth has just begun, so soon to learn there's a race to run. Lord, help me in my prayers for others.

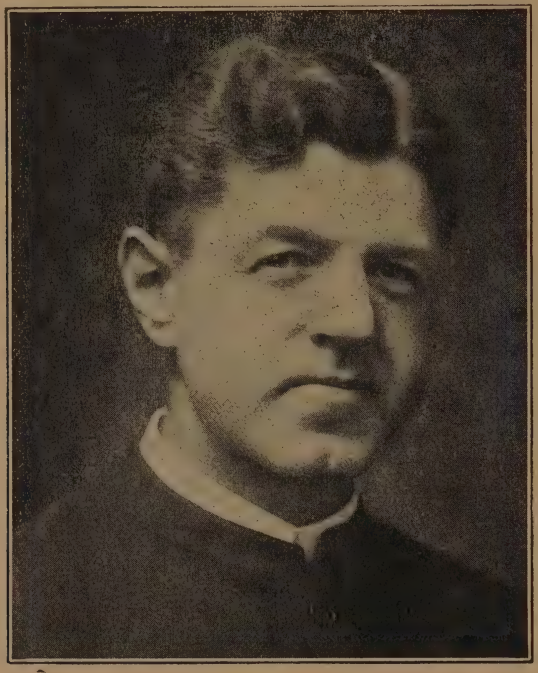
Others, at meeting they like a big show; they sing, preach, and testify, and want to see things go, but forget about religion when they get home. Lord, help me pray for others.—Word and Work.

It is the little things that count in life. The world often judges us by our conduct in what we are inclined to consider as commonplace and insignificant and brands us as coarse or refined. Does not our behavior in the little things of our spiritual life also reveal our standing and prove if we have the coarseness of carnality or the refinement of Divinity?—K.

A SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LEVI MUMAW

By Stanford Mumaw

It is with great appreciation of the working of God's grace in the life of one who won the esteem and confidence of his friends and colaborers in God's great vineyard that we briefly review his life. It is not the purpose of this article to eulogize our brother or magnify the man but to inspire us who remain to carry on the work of the Lord, to yield more definitely ourselves to the will of the Master and consecrate our lives to His service to the glory of God and perhaps the enriching of many lives.



Levi Mumaw

Bro. Mumaw was born Nov. 16, 1879, the second son of Amos and Catherine Mumaw who lived in Holmes County, Ohio, near Winesburg. It was a modest little country home, nestled by the side of a hill which protected it from the biting blasts of winter winds and held it in the brightness of the noonday sun. The songs of birds and the rippling of a brook near-by contributed to the joy and happiness of this family.

After a few years they moved to Elkhart County, Indiana, settling on a farm southwest of Wakarusa. On the day that Bro. Mumaw was five years old he began his educational activities at the Lockport schoolhouse. He spent four years in that school. About that time the family moved northwest of Wakarusa allowing the subject of our sketch to finish his education at the Olive Center School. Here he won many friends.

In the summer of 1896 he went to Illinois to work on a farm. While there he attended a meeting where Bro. D. D. Miller of near Goshen, Ind., was preaching. In that service he heard the voice of the Spirit bidding him to accept Christ as his Savior. He yielded his heart and life which later budded, blossomed, and brought forth fruit in the Master's vineyard.

The next summer while working on a farm for Jonas Loucks in Indiana he broke down in health. This occasion caused him to think of other vocations outside of farming. After the Mumaw family moved to Wayne County, Ohio, in 1898, he was enrolled in what is now known as Yocum's Business College. Upon the completion of the business course he obtained employment in Ammon Bros. Stove Store at Orrville, Ohio. This store was afterward purchased by the Naftziger and Stansburg Furniture and Undertaking Establishment of that place. He was employed by that company for the next few years.

In the spring of 1903 he returned to Illinois and on June 9 was married to Fannie Shoemaker, daughter of Bishop J. S. Shoemaker. They returned to Ohio and made their home in Orrville.

He was next employed in the Sanderson Cyclone Drill Co., as bookkeeper, and later as secretary.

While living in Orrville the Lord blessed their home with two children, a son and daughter, the daughter having died in infancy. They worshipped at the Martin's church where Bro. Mumaw was Sunday school superintendent for several years. In 1909 they returned to Illinois to permit Sister Mumaw to rest and regain her health. In 1910 he was called to Scottdale to take up work in the Mennonite Publishing House as Treasurer. A little later the duties of Secretary were also given him. This position he held until the time of his death, June 4, 1935. Sister Mumaw died in 1921. Two years later he was married to Alice Hershey of Manheim, Pa., who survives him. His one son, Russell, died in 1927.

Bro. Mumaw was also treasurer of his home congregation, of the Mennonite Relief Commission, and of the Central Relief Committee which functions for all Mennonite bodies, foreign and in the United States. He served as Vice President of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities and was a member of the Executive Committee of the Publication Board. He was also a member of a number of other important committees. He always discharged his duties in an unassuming manner. Few people knew of his varied labors, for he seldom spoke of them himself.

Brother Mumaw took a keen interest in music. He always appreciated the opportunity of getting together with his brothers and family and praising the Lord in song. In the publishing of the new Church Hymnal he took care of all business matters for the Publishing Committee, and did the proofreading of both words and music. He was also the author of the words of a number of sacred songs, which appeared in our church publications. One of them is No. 593 in the new Church Hymnal. He also held the copyright to several songs.

He had a jovial nature clothed with sincere gravity. As a boy he seldom had conflicts with his playmates but rather sponsored an atmosphere of peacefulness. His presence was marked by quietness and reserve. His ideas were conservative and well balanced. In business life and committee work his counsel was considered sensible, timely, scriptural and practical. He faced and fulfilled his duties as unto the Lord.

OUR DEEP NEEDS

When once you have put your mind in the true attitude of prayer, then the Holy Spirit will help you. That is one of the ways in which to prove to ourselves the action of the Holy Spirit. He kindles our aspirations, and does not let us rise from our knees until we have said something that is worth saying to God. Do you want nothing from God?

Do you need no Divine help in increasing your control over yourself, in bridling that tongue of yours which has in its time wrought so much unhappiness to yourself and others, in getting rid of that selfishness which has been such a curse to you, or in practicing that self-denial which is the secret of your happiness?—Archdeacon W. M. Sinclair.

"CHRIST IS ALL, AND IN ALL"

Colossians 3:11

My heart is bounding onward
To where faith's anchor's cast;
The things of Home seem sweeter
To my increasing taste.
Let earth recede and vanish;
As I intently gaze
Upon that scene of glory,
Aglow with Heaven's blaze.

His glory lights the presence
Of that enduring scene,
And brightens up the valley
That cometh in between;
He is the rim and center
Of that glad world of light,
He is the sum of Heaven,
And its untold delight.

He fitted me for glory
By coming down to die,
And now He's fitting glory
In regions there on high.
Here He is my sufficiency,
And passport to the skies,
The glory of God's dwelling,
And all that in it lies.

THE FIRST MENNONITE PRINTING OFFICE

By John Horsch

Menno Simons, in the earliest period of his labors, from 1536 to 1541, wrote various important books. There is evidence indicating that at least one of these books was printed at Antwerp in northern Belgium. In this city there was a large Mennonite congregation. From 1544 to 1553 there appeared only smaller booklets and tracts from Menno Simons' pen. Probably this was due to his extensive travels during this period, as well as to the fact that printing his writings was an exceedingly hazardous undertaking, involving great risks.

However, in the year 1553 there existed in the city of Luebeck in northwestern Germany a printery, owned by a Mennonite, which issued some of Menno's writings. Apparently this was the first Mennonite printing office. The martyr, Jan Claes, who was beheaded in 1544 at Amsterdam, confessed to "printing 600 books of Menno Simons" at Antwerp of which he had sold above 200 in Holland. In all probability he was not the owner of the office in which these books were printed. He was the bishop of the Mennonite Church in Amsterdam, and the meetings of the congregation of this city were held in his house.

In the year 1555 the owner of the above mentioned printing press at Luebeck saw himself compelled to move it to another place. The printery was then set up in the town of Oldesloe in Holstein. Here, within a short time, it again attracted the attention of the authorities. A large quantity of books was found and confiscated by the magistrates, who at the same time ascertained that a large shipment of books had been made to Amsterdam. Most of these books were Bibles. If they were printed at Luebeck, or in part possibly at Oldesloe, the printery must have been one of considerable capacity. Probably the Bibles had been printed elsewhere. The Mennonite printing work may have been financed either by the printer himself or another well-to-do brother. That Menno Simons personally should have furnished the means for this undertaking is out of the question. While formerly, before his renunciation of Romanism, he had been "a lord in Babel" (to use his own words), and had lived in opulence, he was in later years a man poor in earthly goods.

When the work of this printery could not be continued at Oldesloe, the nobleman Bartholomew von Ahlefeldt permitted the Mennonite printer to establish himself on his large country estate called Fresenburg in Holstein. This nobleman was a firm patron of the Mennonites. He had been an officer in the Netherland army and had witnessed the death of some of the Mennonite martyrs. By their evident steadfast devotion to Christ and their Christian principles they had so favorably impressed him that he was well disposed toward them, being convinced that they were entirely harmless and their persecution was uncalled for. Von Ahlefeldt not only permitted the Mennonite printer to settle on his estate but apparently aided him to the extent of having a house built for him. This printer was at one time waylaid and arrested by a neighboring nobleman, but was released through the efforts of von Ahlefeldt.

In the period of the Reformation Holstein was a province of the kingdom of Denmark. Here the cruel laws against the Anabaptists which had been enacted in various German provinces, and again in 1529 at the Diet of Germany, were not in force, and yet the Danish government did not tolerate them. A hearing was given the printer of Mennonite books at Oldesloe, and a report of this hearing was made on Nov. 28, 1554, to King Christian III of Denmark. Strange as it may seem, no names of the persons called to account in this hearing are given in the report. Probably the local authorities desired to shield the accused persons as far as possible, and if this was the case, it may have been due to von Ahlefeldt's influence. The report indicates that the owner of the printery, who is referred to simply as "the printer" and "the Anabaptist," had "journeymen" (helpers) in this work. The assumption of a recent writer that the printer may have been Menno himself is evidently contrary to fact. After receiving this report from Oldesloe, King Christian protested to von Ahlefeldt against tolerating the Mennonites at Fresenburg. The records do not contain the reply made to the King by this nobleman, but the latter continued in his policy of toleration. Evidently he found it possible to quiet the King's fears, at least in part, regarding the final outcome of this experiment. As early as the year 1543 von Ahlefeldt had permitted Mennonite refugees to settle on his estate.

Of the further history of this printing office nothing definite is known. A large number of Menno Simons' books including new editions of most of his earlier writings were printed here.

MANIFESTED

We so easily lose the wonder of the fact that God's righteousness and love have been manifested. In evangelical circles these things are stated so frequently that there is the danger of repetition destroying the freshness of the truth. A splendid illustration, however, forcibly reminds us of the marvel of God's grace. The Dawn, gives us this interesting incident:

"A poor man who had spent his life in ignorance and sin was found by a London clergyman in a garret. He had been plunged into great anxiety of soul by an accident. A stray leaf torn from a New Testament had caught his eye, in it (the 3rd chapter of Romans) he had seen, as he had never seen before, his frightful condition as a sinner: but the leaf was abruptly torn off, leaving no remedy. 'But now the righteousness of God without the Law is ——.' 'Is what?' asked the anxious man. It might be 'withheld' or 'withdrawn' or 'forfeited' or 'lost:' nay, but it is manifested—freely offered to all. The rest of the chapter revealed Christ to him, and saved him on the spot."—The Elim Evangel.

COST OF BEING A BLESSING

We must live deeply ourselves if we would be able to bless others. We must resist sin, even unto blood, if we would teach others how to be victorious in temptation. We must bear trials and endure sorrows with patience, with submission, and with faith, so as to be victorious, if we would become comforters and helpers of others in their trials. You must learn before you can teach, and the learning costs. At no small price can we become true helpers of others in this world. That which has cost us nothing in the getting will not be any great blessing to any other person in the giving. It is only when we lose our life and sacrifice to God, that we become deeply and truly useful.—Elim Evangel.

WALKING WITH JESUS

The sun may set at ev'n with radiant splendor,
In varying tints of living, heav'nly flame;
But he who loves and humbly walks with Jesus
Brings richer glory to His matchless Name.

Away in yonder studded, blue-domed heaven
A galaxy of stars are shining bright;
But he who loves and humbly walks with Jesus
To darkened souls reveals the world's True Light.

The painted flowers grow in wondrous beauty;
Their perfumed incense fills the summer air;
But from the life of him who walks with Jesus
There steals a fragrance far more sweet and rare.

Up from the chain of proud and massive mountains,
A peak in noble majesty may rear;
Sublimer far the life that walks with Jesus,
In common, humble ways, in godly fear.

CHRISTIAN WARFARE

By Daniel Kauffman

Shall we fight? Yes. "Fight the good fight of faith." The Bible frequently refers to the Christian experience as a warfare. The victorious side of this warfare is aptly described in the words, "overcoming life."

We find ourselves in the midst of a world of sin. "The whole world lieth in wickedness." The devil is referred to as "the prince of the power of the air." "A sinful and adulterous generation" describes the world of sin at this time as well as at the time when these words were first uttered. "All that will live godly . . . shall suffer persecution" is but a result of the opposition which the devil offers to the idea of living a life for God. It takes the qualities of the soldier to overcome, and by the grace of God these qualities are supplied for the asking. The only way upward lies in the course of Christian warfare.

What shall we fight? Here is where we find the first line of cleavage between spiritual and carnal warfare. Certainly we are not to fight people though we withstand them when they are lined up against God. "We wrestle not against flesh and blood." And though we wrestle "against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places," we must never forget that ours is a Christian warfare and to win we must confine ourselves to Christian methods and weapons. "Not crowned, except he strive lawfully," is an edict which Christian people should never forget. What shall we fight?

1. Sin. When God sent Jonah to Nineveh He commanded him to "Cry against it" because of its great wickedness. When Paul was in Athens his spirit was stirred within him because that city was given up wholly to idolatry. Some of us might have moved about in Nineveh and Corinth, admired the massive buildings, the great display of wealth, the revelations of the ingenuity and the wonderful achievements of men. Not so with real men of God. The spirit of God is within them and they are stirred at the evidences of wickedness. "Abhor that which is evil" is no mere religious dogma. We must have more than a mere sense of duty when we face sin. If our hearts are not stirred within us as we see its destructive work there is something wrong somewhere. We are never of much service to either God or man unless with an intensity which stirs us to action we hate sin. Can you be a friend of God, can you be a lover of human souls, and at the same time be surrounded by sin without being stirred to action in behalf of rescuing human souls from its awful grip? Can you be indifferent to the ravages of pride, covetousness, unbelief, lust, pleasure, malice, intemperance, disobedience, selfishness, ungodliness all around you? Can you yield to these things, excuse yourself because of "the weakness of the flesh," and together with the rest of humanity drift down the maelstrom of worldliness and at the same time look upward with the blessed hope and glad anticipation of the glorious time when Jesus Christ will come again to claim His own? No, beloved. When the human soul has been delivered from bondage of sin and the heart filled with the love of God it will also be filled with such a horror for sin that an active warfare against sin will be waged, especially in your own community. Brother, have you this horror for sin? Is your heart stirred as you see the ravages of sin all around you? Is your life in the fray? "Fight the good fight of faith." Let your life, your tongue, your hands, your possessions, your all be engaged in fighting sin.

2. Self. The warfare consists in this: that whereas it is natural for man to exalt self it is the will of God that self should be crucified. "They that are Christ's have crucified the flesh with its affections and lusts." Self seeks to assert itself on every occasion. The carnal man is at enmity against God. Keep self on the cross if you would accomplish great things for God. "He that soweth to the flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption." "If any man will come after me," says Christ, "let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily." Christian warfare means a daily conflict with self. But some say that since they have gotten rid of inbred sin they no longer have any desire for sin. While that may be true it is also true that the same devil is around that came and tempted Christ, and the same proneness of the flesh to respond to these temptations is present as long as there is any life in the flesh. Christ remained sinless because He did not yield to temptation. Paul gave voice to one of the secrets of the sinless life when he testified, "I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection."

3. The devil. Here is the source of all our troubles. He is the author of sin, "the prince of the power of the air." We have no more impressive illustration of how best to fight the devil than in the way that Christ resisted temptation. His way of resisting the devil was to stay by the written Word and refuse absolutely to yield to any of the devil's wiles. There is a strange and strong contrast between the attitude and methods of Christ and that of some of the modern devil-fighters. While theirs is an attitude of bluster, His was an attitude of quiet faithfulness to God and His Word and trust in the Father to deliver Him from all the wiles of the devil. Brother, if you will take the same way, God will take care of the devil.

How Shall We Fight?

Here again we notice a vital difference between carnal and spiritual warfare. "The weapons of our warfare are not carnal." As high as the heaven is above the earth, so is the "good fight of faith" to be preferred above the fight which seeks the mastery through the taking of human life or the infliction of violence upon others. Notice, while "the weapons of our warfare are not carnal," they are after all "mighty through God." The enduring conquests are the conquests of the cross. Let us fight with these weapons:

1. Truth. And speaking of truth let us never forget that "Thy Word is Truth." God being the Author of truth, and the whole Bible being the inspired Word of God, we look upon this as the infallible assertion of truth. There are many truths whose wording is not found in the Bible but there is no truth that is in conflict with anything that is in the Bible. Get away from this fundamental fact, and you are as a ship at sea, without rudder or compass. With our "loins girded about with truth," defeat is impossible. The Word of God is referred to as "the sword of the Spirit;" as "quick and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword." When you are on the side of truth the enemy may overcome the body—as they did with Christ, Stephen, and millions of faithful Christian martyrs—but they can not touch the soul, neither can they defeat the cause of truth. Believe the truth, speak the truth, hold to the truth. Loyalty to and defence of the truth puts you on the side opposite to the world, but it also puts you on the side of Christ, of salvation, of eternal victory and glory.

2. Righteousness. With truth in your heart and on your lips, you are always on the side of righteousness. But be sure that it is the righteousness of God and not the righteousness of self to which you hold. "Right will prevail" —and they that are on the side of righteousness will prevail with it.

3. Faith. "This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith." The difference between overcoming and being overcome is the measure of our faith. When Peter trusted in God he walked on the waves; when he began to doubt he began to sink. For a catalogue of the triumphs of faith read Hebrews 11. For a present interpretation of such triumphs study the life of any Christian soldier who knows nothing but to believe God, to take Him at His Word, to trust Him, and to obey Him. Many fall, and many fail, because their faith fails. Triumphant faith invariably means conquests for the Lord.

4. Love. Love is not only "the greatest thing in the world," but it is also the strongest thing in the world. The Bible refers to it as "the bond of perfectness." It is stronger than the bond of law—it conquers where force will fail. Herein is the difference between carnal and spiritual warfare; one is the warfare of hatred, the other the warfare of love; one the warfare of physical force, the other the warfare of the power divine; one the warfare for the conquest of the body, the other the warfare for the conquest of the heart, the soul; one an effort to overcome by inflicting suffering upon others, the other an endurance of suffering that the other may be won for Christ. Carnal warfare makes a showing in the flesh—it is also destructive to flesh and soul. Spiritual warfare means a hiding in Christ, a suffering for His sake, a giving of self that others may be saved. Carnal warfare breeds hatred, jealousy, selfishness, cruelty, profanity, brutality, the inflaming of fleshly lusts. Spiritual warfare perfects love, sympathy, kindness in words and deeds, a giving of self that others may be saved—and with it all a fellowship with Christ, a shining in His service, a holy life, "a peace of God which passeth all understanding," a joy in the soul at the thought of richer blessings and glory to come.

5. Prayer. This is another very formidable weapon. Where the carnal man drops to fighting—either with gun, sword, pistol, fist, or tongue—the man of God resorts to prayer. In answer to prayer God gives him wisdom, grace, discretion, power to endure, and does for him what he is unable to do for himself. When things go wrong, pray. When the enemy rises up, pray. When the way seems dark, pray. When you are tempted, pray. When you want revivals, souls saved, the Church built up, pray. When you feel your weakness or shortcoming, pray. In times of temptation, pray. You are safe so long as you pray—provided you "pray according to his will," and are willing to co-operate with the Lord in the answer to your prayers. To be strong in the Lord of necessity means to be faithful in prayer.

Christian warfare means the overcoming life in time, and the shouts of victory in the end. "He that overcometh shall inherit all things."

Scottdale, Pa.

D. L. MOODY'S TESTIMONY

I suppose that if all the times I have prayed for faith were put together, it would amount to months. I used to say, "What we want is faith; if we only have faith, we can turn Chicago upside down," or, rather, right side up. I thought that some day faith would come down and strike me like lightning. But faith did not seem to come. One day I read in the 10th chapter of Romans, Now "faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God." I had closed my Bible and prayed for faith. I now opened my Bible, and began to study, and faith has been growing ever since.—D. L. Moody.

BE STILL

E. M. Juchan

Henry Drummond, speaking of the value of a little time spent alone with God, said: "Five minutes spent in the companionship of Christ every morning—aye, two minutes, if it is face to face and heart to heart—will change the whole day, will make every thought and feeling different, will enable you to do things for His sake that you would not have done for your own sake or for anyone else's sake."

Hush, my soul! Be still and listen,
Hear what the Almighty says;
Be not thou forever talking,
Silence sometimes yields more praise.

Have you never learned the lesson,
"Speech is silver? Silence—gold?"
There's a love too deep to utter,
Joy that never can be told.

As in boundless depths of ocean,
There is stillness so profound!
That the noise of war or tempest
Never yet produced a sound.

So in soul depths, there is silence,
By no earthly music stirred,
Where the voice of the Eternal
Is the only voice that's heard.

Oh, 'tis joy, to sit and listen
To the still, small voice of love,
And in lowliest adoration
All our glad obedience prove.

—The Elim Evangel.

CHRIST DIED

A certain student lived a life notorious for its wickedness. Once in a spirit of levity he went to an old pastor and mentioned the sins that he had committed, and said after each one, "But I don't care about that." The pastor knew that it was said in a spirit of levity, and he replied, "Promise me to do one thing." The man promised. "Every night for one week bow down and say, 'Oh, Jesus Christ, Thou hast died for my sin, but I don't care about that.'" That night the man tried to say it, but he could not say the last part of the sentence. On the fourth night he went to his pastor with a white face and said, "I couldn't say it." —The United Evangelical.

AN EASTERN LEGEND

There is an Eastern legend of a Hindu woman who lost her only child, and to comfort her in her grief, sought help from one of the prophets. She begged him to give her back her child. After looking at her tenderly for a long while, he said to her, "Go, my daughter, and bring me a handful of rice from a house into which death has never entered and I will do as thou desirest." The woman began her search and visited home after home. She had no difficulty in securing the rice, for this the people gave her willingly. But after they granted her request she inquired, "Are you all here around the hearth—father, mother, children—none missing?" But the people shook their heads and invariably replied with sighs and sadness, that there was some vacant seat by the hearthside. She continued to go from house to house and again and again was disappointed. But as she went and beheld the spectacle of grief and sorrow everywhere, her heart, ceasing to be occupied with its own sorrow, began to flow out in sympathy with universal suffering. She forgot herself in the general interest, and in seeking to heal the sorrows of others, found comfort for her own broken heart.

The Word of God teaches us to look away from ourselves to the Comforter who is ever near as a very present help in time of need. In times of trial we are instructed not to think that some strange thing has happened to us, but only that which is common to men. Instead we are to rejoice inasmuch as through these things we enter into fellowship with the sufferings of Christ. The world in its sin and its sorrow, its griefs and its heartaches, needs the Gospel that we preach. Let us forget ourselves and our own narrow interests in the larger things of the Kingdom, ever bearing in mind that if we suffer with Him, we shall also reign with Him.—Herald of Holiness.

We may be worn in God's service, but we ought not to be careworn.—Bishop Lay.

THE LOVE OF CHRIST

Revive your consciousness of the Lord's love to you by considering Him. We know that His cross is the greatest proof of His love, but consider Him in resurrection. He did not immediately ascend to heaven, He lingered with His disciples. He showed that they were His chief care, more to Him than crowns and kingdoms. His service and patience towards them reveal Him in His knowledge-surpassing love. We are told that on this wise He showed Himself to His disciples, and what is recorded is for our learning. As we contemplate Him, His Words to Thomas come home to us, "Reach hither thy finger, * * be not faithless, but believing;" and to Peter, "Lovest thou Me?" As He shows Himself thus to us we cannot but respond and draw near to Him and exclaim, "My Lord and my God," and "Lord, Thou knowest all things; Thou knowest that I love Thee."—Scripture Truth.

FAITH WITHOUT WORKS

"There is a good deal of vain religion in the world. That is, religion that makes no difference and means nothing in one's life. But we should not blame religion, because some people make a vain thing of it. Religion held and practiced in sincere belief is a very real thing, a force that shapes character and controls conduct, a strength and stay in all the chances and changes of life, a sure comfort in adversity, a light that sets immortal hope in the heart."—The Friend.

TO RENEW STRENGTH

"In renewing your strength," said C. H. Spurgeon, "ask the Lord that you may undertake fresh work, and that this work may be done to a nobler tune—that you may have more expectancy, more confidence, more faith, more God-reliance. What things are done by men in common life with self-reliance! But with God-reliance we work impossibilities, and miracles fly from us like sparks from the anvil of a smith. When a man learns to work with God's strength and with that alone, he can do things."—The Watchman-Examiner.

CHILDLIKE FAITH

A man must start with such faith as he has. If the faith is weak it is not to be despised; it is to be cherished and cultivated. But the simpler and more unquestioning faith, the richer and ampler will be the responses. A little faith rightly used will grow to more faith, and the more to more still, till the answers to it are like floodings of light in a June morning. No man knows to what Heavenly splendors his eyes may be opened if he will only cultivate and cherish faith. No man knows how he may be filled with God if he will only believe with a steadily increasing energy.

The childlike faith, that asks not sight,
Waits not for wonder or for sign,
Believes, because it loves aright,
Shall see things greater, things Divine.
Heaven to that gaze shall open wide,
And brightest angels to and fro
On messages of love shall glide,
'Twixt God above and heart below.

—The C. U. Herald.

"BE YE CLEAN"

There is in sin a filthiness; even the least sin will defile. Uncleanness has two branches to it: "filthiness of the flesh and spirit." Filthiness of the flesh embraces fornication, licentiousness, wine, alcoholic drinks, tobacco, opium, gluttony, slovenliness, laziness, etc. Filthiness of the spirit embraces pride, anger, pomp, display, malice, backbiting, covetousness, deceit, flattery, self-praise, boasting, self-seeking, love of place, love of money, fear of man, fear of death, unbelief, bitterness, etc. The purging away of all such filthiness of the flesh and spirit constitutes true scriptural cleansing.—Sel.

The following is a list of ministers of various bodies of Mennonites who adhere to the tenets of the Confession of Faith adopted by the Mennonites at Dortrecht in 1632, but have not affiliated themselves with any of the organized conferences. HE SOLD ALL FOR JESUS

Mr. Studd, the great Cambridge cricketer of England, applied the story of the rich young ruler to himself and gave away his entire fortune, a half million dollars, and followed Christ in voluntary poverty. His last term of service has been in the heart of Africa for nearly thirteen years without a furlough.

Mr. Studd says:

"Don't seek a long life—Christ had a short one.

Don't live in luxury—Christ lived and died poor.

Don't live in pleasure—Christ pleased not Himself.

Don't live in fame—Christ made Himself of no reputation.

Don't live at ease—Christ suffered for you the shame of the scourge and the cross."—Copied.

Richard Baxter thus prays to the Holy Spirit: "Be in me the Resident Witness of my Lord, the Author of my prayers, the spirit of adoption, the seal of God and the earnest of my inheritance * *. Without Thee books are senseless scrawls, studies are dreams, learning is a glowworm."

MENNONITE HISTORICAL REFERENCE WORKS

CENTENNIAL HISTORY OF THE MENNONITES OF ILLINOIS: 1829-1929

By Harry F. Weber

In a volume of almost 700 pages, the author traces in detail the history of the Mennonites of Illinois from the very first settlement in 1829, now more than a hundred years ago, down to the present time. He has spared no pains in preparing an accurate survey of the early prairie settlements, and traces the growth of these early settlements into the large communities with hundreds of members supporting active church organizations and charitable institutions. The story includes interesting accounts of pioneer life, together with a description of the growth of the pioneer religious life and organization of the newly arrived Mennonite immigrants from Alsace and South Germany into religious organizations with Sunday Schools, mission enterprises, young people's activities, and the like.

This volume is exhaustive, not only in covering all the nine branches within the state, but also in giving a detailed account of every congregation and institution in the various branches. The volume is encyclopedic in character, and will without doubt remain the standard work in its field. Its usefulness is much increased by maps, illustrations, statistical tables, a biographical appendix, and several extensive indices.

MENNONITES OF LANCASTER CONFERENCE

By Martin G. Weaver

The author has spared no time or expense in gathering the historical matter necessary for a publication of this kind. The original purpose of this work, as related by the author, was to make a record and a comparison of the growth or decline of the many Mennonite Congregations in Lancaster County, and to compile a complete list of all bishops, ministers, and deacons with the dates and terms of service, as well as to record the location of the early meetinghouses and the dates of their erection, ending with the list of the present congregations, Sunday schools, and other departments in the service of God, as conducted by the church. This purpose has been accomplished with added historical matter of general interest.

The material is arranged by Bishop Districts and can readily be understood by all. The enlarged chapter on Sunday Schools, Missions and Charitable Institutions in the Conference district is of more than passing interest.

A chapter is devoted to the work of the Lancaster Conference. This is of vital importance and will be of interest to the entire Mennonite church body. Other Mennonite bodies located within the borders of the Lancaster Conference District are included in the history in a brief way. A chapter is devoted to the list of Church leaders in other Mennonite conferences who came originally from Lancaster Conference. Practically all the leading conferences in the United States and Canada have been affected by this emigration in earlier years.

A complete record is given of ordinations of bishops, ministers, and deacons with dates of death and ages within the Lancaster Conference District.

The book contains about 550 pages including 47 illustrations. Some of the early landmarks as well as a number of the present meetinghouses are shown by the illustrations. Size of pages 5¼ by 8¼ inches. Bound in cloth with side and back stamps in gold.
